

DEPARTMENT OF REGULATION BIOLOGY

Chairman: Masaharu Noda

The Department is composed of two regular divisions and two adjunct divisions. The study of this department is focused on molecular mechanisms for the development of central nervous systems in vertebrates, and also on molecular mechanisms for the response of plants toward external environments, such as light, temperature and salinity.